NorthBay

ADVENTURE
CAMP

NorthBay's waterfront site is ideally located on the Elk Neck peninsula, 20 minutes off I-95, 50 miles north of Baltimore and 50 miles south of Philadelphia. From either city you can be at NorthBay in just one hour!

FROM BALTIMORE / WASHINGTON:

Take I-95 North (from Baltimore heading towards Philadelphia) across the Susquehanna Bridge.

Take- exit # 100, MD-272- (sign will say "North East / Rising Sun".)

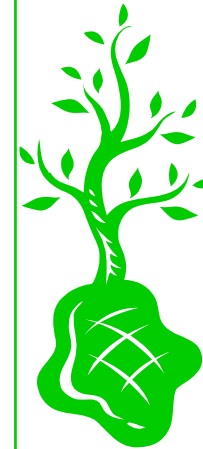

Keep RIGHT (south toward North East) at the fork in the ramp.

Merge onto MD-272 south, go 10.5 miles. (You will first pass through the Town of North East, and then pass Sandy Hill Camp (on your left after 9.0 miles).

(After Sandy Hill, you will see a sign on the left indicating you have entered Elk Neck State Park.)

When you see the NorthBay sign, turn RIGHT off MD-272 into the NorthBay property (Horseshoe Point Lane)...Proceed on driveway (less than a mile) and down the big hill, until you arrive at the lower parking lot on your left...park there, and then walk to the NorthBay offices which are located in the administration building (Bowers Center) on the circle at the end of the road.

Growing the Body of Christ...

Our focus at this year's retreat will be reaching those outside our church with the Gospel. We believe His message has so transformed our lives and our church that we want others to hear what He is teaching. Our desire is to provide a place where your unchurched friends can process the life changing message of the Gospel with you. Come and participate in a dialogue with the Pastors of EP Church about reaching out and how we can together provide such a place that the Lord may use to Grow the Body of Christ...

"For not only has the word of the Lord sounded forth from you in Macedonia and Achaia, but your faith in God has gone forth everywhere, so that we need not say anything." (Thessalonians 1:8
